THE COW PUNCHER

ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Copyrighted, Canada, 1918, By The Musson Book Co., Ltd., Toronto. Printed By Special Arrangement.

Dave was not long in discovering that his engagement as coachman was a device born of Mr. Duncan's kindness, to enable him to accept instruction without feeling under obligation for it. When he made this discovery, he smiled quietly to himself and pretended not to have made it. Two things were apparent after their first drive; that nothing was further from the minds of Mr. Duncan's bays than anything which called for so much exertion as a runaway, and that, even had they been so disposed, Edith was entirely competent to manage them. The girl had not lived in the foothill town since childhood without becoming something of a horse-woman. But Dave pretended not to know that he was a supernumerary. To have acted otherwise would have seemed ungrateful to Mr. Duncan. And presently the drives began to have a strange attraction of themselves.

When they drove in the two-seated buggy on Sunday afternoons the party usually comprised Mrs. Duncan and Edith young Forsyth and Dave. Mr. Duncan was interested in certain Sunday afternoon meetings. It was Mrs. Duncan's custom to sit in the rear seat, for its better riding qualities, and it had a knack of falling about that Edith would ride in the front seat with the driver. She caused Forsyth to ride with her mother, ostensibly as a courtesy to that young gentleman,—a courtesy whi h, it may be conjectured, was not fully appreciated. At first he accepted it with the good nature of one who feels his position secure, but gradually that good nature gave way to a certain testiness of spirit which he could not entirely conceal. It became evident that he would have preferred other ways of spending the Sunday afternoons. The parks for instance, or quiet walks through the cottonwoods by the river. . .

The crisis was precipitated one fine Sunday in September, in the first year of Dave's newspaper experience. Dave called early, and found Edith in a riding habit.

"Mother is 'indisposed,' as they say in the society page," she explained. "In other words, she doesn't wish to be bothered. So I thought we would ride today."

"But there are only two horses," said Dave.

"Well?" queried the girl, and there was a note in her voice that sounded strange to him. Then, after a pause in which the color slowly rose to her cheeks, "There are only two of us."

"But Mr. Forsyth?"

"He is not here. He may not come. Will you saddle the horses and let us get away?"

It was evident to Dave that, for some reason, Edith wished to evade Forsyth this afternoon. A lover's quarrel, no doubt. That she had a preference for him, and was revealing it with the utmost frankness, never occurred to his sturdy, honest mind. One of the delights of his companionship with Edith had been that it was a real companionship. None of the limitations occasioned by any sex consciousness had narrowed the sphere of the frank friendship he felt for her. She was to him almost as another man, yet in no sense masculine. It seemed rather that her femininity was of such purity that, like the atmosphere he breathed, it surrounded him, flooded him without exciting consciousness of its existence. Save for a certain tender delicacy which her womanhood inspired, he came and went with her as he might have done with a man chum of his own age. And when she preferred to ride without Forsyth it did not occur to Elden that she preferred to ride with him.

They were soon in the country, and Edith, leading, swung from the road to a bridle trail that followed the winding of the river. As her graceful figure drifted on ahead it seemed more than ever reminiscent of Reenie Hardie. What rides they had had on those foothill trails! What dippings into the great canyons! What adventures into the spruce forests! And how long ago it all seemed. That was before he started on the paper; before he had been in the grocery business, or in the coal business; back in the long, long past on the ranch in the days before his father died. Life—how it goes! And had it brought to her as many changes as to him? And had it, perhaps, brought to her one change it had not brought to him—a change in the anchor about which her heart's affection clung? This girl, riding ahead, suggestive in every curve and pose of Reenie Hardy. . . . His eyes were burning with loneliness.

He knew he was dull that day, and Edith was particularly charming and vivacious. She coaxed him into conversation a dozen times, but he answered absent-mindedly. At length she leapt from her horse and seated herself, facing the river, on a fallen log. Without looking back she indicated with her hand the space beside her, and Dave followed and sat down. For a time they watches the swift water in silence; blue-green where the current ran deeply; tinged with brown glow in the shallows from the gravel underneath.

"You aren't talking today," she said at length. "You don't quite do yourself justice. What's wrong?"

"Oh, nothing," he answered with a laugh, pulling himself together. "This September weather always gets me, I guess I have a streak of Indian; it comes of being brought up on the ranges. And in September, after the first frosts have touched the foliage—" He paused, as though it was not necessary to say more.

"Yes, I know," she said quietly. Then, with a queer little note of confidence, "Don't apologize for it, Dave."

"Apologize?" and his form straightened. "Certainly not. . . One doesn't apologize for nature, does he? . . . But it comes back in September." He smiled, and she thought the subconscious in him was calling up the smell of fire in dry grass, or perhaps even the rumble of buffalo over the hills. And he knew he smiled because he had so completely misled her.

Presently she took out a pocket volume. "Will you read?" she said. Strangely enough he opened it at the lines:

"Oh, you will never hide your soul
from me;
I've seen the jewels flash, and know
'tis there
Muffle it as you will."

. . . It was dusk when they started homeward.

Forsyth was waiting for her. Dave scented stormy weather and excused himself early.

"What does this mean?" demanded Forsyth, angrily, as soon as Dave had gone. "Do you think I'll take second place to that—that coal heaver?"

She straightened, and her bright eyes were charged with a blaze which would have astonished Dave, who had known her only in her milder moods. But she tried to speak without passion.

"That is not to his discredit," she said.

"Straight from the corrals into good society," Forsyth sneered.

Then she made no pretense of composure. "If you have nothing more to urge against Mr. Elden, perhaps you will go."

Forsyth took his hat. At the door he paused and turned, but she was already ostensibly interested in a magazine. He went out into the night.

The week was a busy one with Dave, and he had no opportunity to visit the Duncans. Friday Edith called him on the telephone. She asked an inconsequential question about something which had appeared in the ed on until it turned on the point of their expedition of the previous Sunday. Dave never could account quite clearly how it happened, but when he hung up the receiver he knew he had asked her to ride with him again on Sunday, and she had accepted. He had ridden with her before, of course, but he had never asked her before. He had been a sort of honored employee, whose business it was to comply with her wishes. But this time she would ride at his request. He felt that a subtle change had come over their relationship.

He was at the Duncan house earlier than usual Sunday afternoon, but not too early for Edith. She was dressed for the occasion; she seemed more fetching than he had ever seen her. There was the blush of health—or was it altogether the blush of health?—on her cheeks, and a light in her eyes such as he had seen more than once on those last rides with Reenie Hardy. And across her saddle she threw a brown sweater.

She led the way over the path followed the Sunday before until again they sat by the rushing water. Dave had again been filled with a sense of Reenie Hardy, and his conversation was disjointed and uninteresting. She tried unsuccessfully to draw him out with questions about himself; then took the more astute tack of speaking of her own past life. It had begun in an eastern city, ever so many years ago.

Chivalry could not allow that to pass. "Oh, not so very many," said Dave.

"How many?" she teased. "Guess."

He looked judicially on her bright face. It was a good face to look upon. Perhaps his eyes said as much.

"Nineteen," he hazarded.

"Oh, more than that."

"Twenty-one?"

"Oh, less than that." And their first confidence was established.

"Twenty," thought Dave to himself. "Reenie must be about twenty now."

"And I was five when—when Jack died," she went on. "Jack was my brother, you know. He was seven, and a great boy for his daddy. Most boys run to their mother with their hurts, but Jack was different. When paper, and from that the talk driftfather was at the office Jack would save up his little hurts until evening. . . . Well, we were playing, and I stood on the car tracks, signalling the motorman, to make him ring his bell. On came the car, with the bell clanging, and the man in blue looking very cross. Jack must have thought I was waiting too long, for he suddenly rushed on the track to pull me off." She stopped, and sat looking at the rushing water.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 9

PETER'S GREAT CONFESSION

The time has now come for the King to take account of his ministry.

This confession in some sense marks the turning point in Christ's ministry. Hereafter it is more restricted to his disciples. Two reasons are sufficient why this should be (vv. 1-12): (1) The Pharisees and Sadducees show their attitude towards him in their demand for a sign. His answer is that none shall be given save that of his death and resurrection, as symbolized in the experiences of the Prophet Jonah. (2) The disciples show their inability to understand the spiritual nature of his teaching. When he warned them of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees they understood him to refer to bread, when he meant their doctrine. It was at this crisis when Christ turned from the nation which had rejected him, that Peter made this great confession. It was made in the borders of Caesarea-Philippi, practically Gentile territory.

I. Peter's Confession (vv. 13-16).

Two questions of Christ provoked this confession:

1. The question as to the opinion of the people concerning him.

They recognized him as a teacher or a prophet of more than human authority and power. Today, as then, there is a diversity of opinion among the people as to Jesus Christ. Some think he is only a man; others, that he is a great teacher, but nothing more. Had he been content with this he would not have been molested in Jerusalem, for the Jews willingly acknowledged him as more than a human teacher. It was his persistent claim to be the God-man, the Son of God, that sent him to the cross.

2. The second question involved the personal opinion of the disciples concerning him. To be able to tell what others think of Jesus is not enough; there must be definite, correct and personal belief in him.

II. The New Body, the Church, Announced (vv. 17-20).

Peter had made a noble confession of Christ, so now Christ confesses him. If we confess Christ he will confess us (Matt. 10:32, 33). Christ declared his intention of bringing into existence a new body to the members of which he will give eternal life, and to whose hands he will entrust the keys of the Kingdom. Peter was to have a distinguished place in this body. The keys entrusted to him were used on the day of Pentecost and again in the case of Cornelius. Association in this new body cannot be broken by death, for the gates of hades shall not prevail against it. This body, the church, is of a heavenly origin, a heavenly calling, and a heavenly inheritance.

III. The Cross the Way to the Throne (vv. 21-33).

This was, no doubt, startling to the disciples. They did not realize that redemption was to be accomplished through the passion of the cross. So unwelcome was this announcement that Peter cried, "This shall not be unto thee." Peter later saw through this darkness to the glory on the hilltop beyond. A new hope then filled his breast (1 Peter 1:3, 4). Victory through death is yet the stumbling block of many. Many are stumbling over the doctrine of salvation and redemption through the suffering of the cross. All such are under the control of the devil (v. 23). Salvation by blood, the devil hates.

IV. The Cost of Discipleship (vv. 24-27).

To follow Christ means suffering. To follow him is to turn one's back upon the world. Life can only be saved by losing it. If we are going to be Christians we must share Christ's suffering. We cannot go to heaven on flowery beds of ease.

1. There must be denial of self (v. 24). There is a wide difference between self-denial and denial of self. Self-denial is practiced everywhere by all people, but only the disciples of Christ or Christian people deny self. Christ takes the place of self.

2. "Take up his cross." This cross is the suffering and shame which lie in the path of loyalty to God. To do our duty will mean suffering (2 Tim. 3:12).

3. Follow Christ. This means to have the mind of Christ, to do like Christ. All such shall be rewarded when Christ comes in glory.

Penal Colony for Anarchists

One of the Philippine islands would be an anarchists' penal colony to which persons convicted of attempts to overthrow the government would be deported, under a bill by Senator McKellar, democrat, of Tenessee, a member of the senate committee investigating the steel strike. Senator McKellar introduced another bill providing for deportation of aliens within five years unless they became naturalized.

Calling

Mother—Did you call Edith up this morning?

Daughter — Yes, but she wasn't down.

Mother—But why didn't you call her down?

Daughter—Because she wasn't up.

Mother—Then call her up now, and call her down for not being down when you called her up.

Canadian Crops At Kansas Show

Successes Demonstrate That Canada Is Unsurpassed as An Agricultural Country

Canadians scored many remarkable successes at the International Soil Products Exposition recently held in Kansas City. Forty first, twenty-nine second and twenty-six third prizes were won by exhibitors from the prairie provinces. Amongst the prizes won were the first, second and third prizes for hard spring wheat; the sweepstakes for wheat, and the cup offered by the Department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the best half bushel of hard spring wheat; first, second and third prizes, and the sweepstakes for oats; first second and third prizes for flax; first second and third for peas, second and third prizes for barley, and second and third prizes for oats.

James S. Field, who won the cup sweepstakes and first prize for hard red spring wheat as well as sweepstakes and first prize for oats, is farming about three miles north of Regina and, though competing at shows for a number of years, this is the first time he has had a really big success outside local shows. The sweepstakes for wheat and the first prize for hard red spring wheat have been won at the Kansas show by Canadians seven times during the last eight years.

Western Canadian exhibitors won four firsts, three seconds and three thirds in the potato classes; they were also successfull in classes for cabbages, cauliflowers, pumpkins, squash and watermelons.

All these successes again demonstrate the fact that Canada is unsurpassed as an agricultural country.

Reconstruction in France

Sixty Thousand Houses, Wrecked By Shell Fire, Rebuilt

Captain Andre Tardieu, member of the French peace commission, speaking at a meeting of the French American club, gave interesting figures on the reconstruction work accomplished since the armistice. Sixty thousand of the 550,000 houses in the battle area wrecked by shell fire have been rebuilt; 2,016 kilometres of the 3,246 kilometres of railway destroyed have been repaired, and 700 of the 1,675 kilometres of canals rendered useless in the course of hostilities are again in commission. Of the 1,160 plants destroyed by the enemy 588 have been repaired.

Equally remarkable progress is being made in restoring to cultivation the vast areas in the devastated regions. The devastated area embraced 4,500,000 acres. Of this approximately 1,000,000 acres have been returned to the farmers and 500,000 acres of it are ready for the seed. Ten million metres—over 600,000 miles — of barbed wire have been disentangled and carried away in the operations.

Commissioner Tardieu added that a country which had lost nearly 2,000,000 workers killed or incapacitated by war, which had been deprived by invasion of one-fifth of its productive capacity, and which, nevertheless, of its own efforts had accomplished such a showing as that cited above, has a right to rely on the effective help of its allies to restore completely its economical and financial status.

Scotland And The War

Their Marvelous Record as Workers on So Many Fields

No historian has yet attempted to estimate fully what Scotland has done in the war. No social writer or novelist has so far penned a living volume dealing with the life of our great little country during the terrible ordeal of the past five years. The state assuredly issued a volume that made all the world wonder that Scots could survive their home conditions and maintain their marvelous record as workers on so many fields. . . .

In some things made clear and distinct by the war Scotland stands unrivalled: first, in that bravery which Thackeray tells us never goes out of fashion. The most dashing troops who served in France always desired to be associated with the Scots, whose solid reliability was ever in evidence. Scotland's voluntary recruiting record was wonderful (far beyond that of any other country engaged in the war, for the fighters of all other countries, including France and Germany, were chiefly conscripts), but in the race there is ever the vivid spirit of adventure which R. L. Stevenson and many other writers have brilliantly commemorated.

We are only nibbling today at the story of Scottish valor . . . the emotions of the Scot are invariably suppressed, and the quiet manner in which our wonderful heroes have gone back in their place in civil life has been impressive in its own way . . . "I am a Scot, I have no desire to be an Englishman," said Sir Douglas Haig.—Edinburgh Evening News.

Some people while on earth try to live on the interest of their imaginary treasures in heaven.

Keep Fit For Success In Life

BY DR. A. B. BABCOCK.

You can take your boy and out of him make anything you like if you can get him under good self-discipline. All roads are open to the man who is strong and fit. Uncle Sam took "our boys"—those slab-sided, stooped, hollow-chested youths—and made of them vigorous, well-developed, well set-up and courageous men. Take the right way! Train yourself and your children to take proper exercise, drink plenty of water and keep the system clean. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a common cold or headache to the most serious illness may result from the absorption of poisons in the intestines.

The first principle is to keep the system clean. Occasionally see that the boy or girl, as well as yourself, has an internal bath. It may be with castor oil or a tiny pill of May-apple, aloin and jalap, which is sold by druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

If a cold starts with a cough and it persists, then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well-known alterative extract which has been on the market for a great many years, and which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic compound is composed of an extract of roots and herbs, without alcohol, and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, allays the irritation and at the same time works in the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble—the stagnated or poisoned blood.

Natures Barometer

Spider Makes Changes in Its Web Every Twenty-four Hours

One of the simplest of nature's barometers is a spider's web. When there is a prospect of wind or rain, the spider shortens the filaments by which its web is sustained and leaves it in this state as long as the weather is variable. If it elongates its threads it is a sign of fine, calm weather, the duration of which may be judged by the length to which the threads are let out. If the spider remains inactive it is a sign of rain; if it keeps at work during rain the downpour will not last long, and will be followed by fine weather, says an exchange. Observation has taught that the spider makes changes in its web every twenty-four hours, and that if such changes are made in the evening just before sunset the night will be clear and beautiful.

Smugglers' Tunnel Found

Aladdin's Has Been in Operation for Several Years to Handle Contraband Goods

A smugglers' tunnel, 700 yards long, under the Swiss-Austrian border, has been found, it is reported, by the police at Kreazlinzen, a small town at the lower end of Lake Constance. A shorter tunnel under the border was recently found there. The newly-discovered tunnel leads from an ancient Augustine abbey, in which the smugglers made an Aladdin's cave. They are supposed to have been operating here for several years, handling contraband goods. The smugglers found a forgotten underground passage extending from the abbey, which they prolonged to bring it out well beyond the Austrian border.

Fencing a Continent

Since the year 1891 the State of South Australia has erected 29,148 miles of vermin fences, enough to encircle the world, and with the remnant build a double line of fence along the southern border of Canada. New South Wales has spent more than $27,000,000 for rabbit extermination, and has within its borders 98,000 miles of fence.

Clemenceau And The Statue

Great Frenchman Does Not Take Kindly to Idea

The widely read Spanish-American journalist, Enrique Gomez-Carrillo, tells a story of Clemenceau, who was once induced to sit to Rodin for a statue. As usual, the great sculptor surrounded his work with an air of mystery, not permitting even his illustrious sitter to inspect the work before its completion. When the moment for inspection at last arrived Clemenceau could not believe his eyes. "Is that I?" Never! I don't want that!" It was of no avail that experts pronounced the likeness perfect. "Let him change the nose, the mouth, the head, the eyes and that pate, and I'll accept the bust," said the "Tiger." To which Rodin responded that he had made the work less ugly than Clemenceau really was. "Well," was the latter's comment, "if I'm that ugly, I don't want to know it!" It is said that the great Frenchman to this day does not take kindly to the idea of a statue. "We old fellows look very ugly in marble. Let them keep their pedestals for the young folks.

Canada's Trade With Rumania

The inauguration of Canada's newly organized trade with Rumania took place with the sailing of the steamer Santeramo from Montreal for Galatz, with a cargo of general merchandise and foodstuffs. The vessel, which was chartered by the general trade commissioner at London for the Canadian-Rumanian trade, recently arrived at Montreal from Cardiff and is a British steamer of about 3,000 tons.

Something About Furs

During the reign of Edward IV. it was forbidden to all people who did not have an income of forty pounds a year to wear ermine or sable or chinchilla; in fact, they were not allowed to wear any but the cheapest of peltries—skins that today we could not purchase with several times a forty-pound income. Furs are a luxury and the skin of no animal is too small or too ordinary to serve as a trimming, or a lining, or as an entire fur cloak for the winter of 1919-1920. Even the goat and the mouse are included in the list.

Satan Wanted

A clergyman who was a geologist always carried his specimens about in a red handkerchief such as navvies use to carry their dinners in, relates the Edinburgh Scotsman. One day, as he was going home with it full of specimens, he saw a navvy at the top of a well, using violent language because the windlass refused to work. "My friend," said the parson, "do you know Satan?" "No," replied the man, "but I'll ask my mate." "Bill," he cried, "do you know Satan?" "No!" came the answer from the bottom of the well. "Why?" "Well," said the man on top, "there's a bloke up here wot's got 'is dinner."

Australian Premier Says Empire Will Hang Together

A despatch to the London Daily Mail from Sydney say that in a speech at Brisbane, Premier Hughes said that when he was recently in South Africa, General Botha had said to him: "If you call to us across the ocean we shall come to you. We look upon you as the outpost of the Empire. You stand between us and that outer world of thousands of millions which hems us about. If you fall we fall; if we call you we know you will come."

Premier Hughes continued: "So it is with New Zealand and Australia. Those who touch us touch Canada. Those who touch Britain touch us."

Faint and Dizzy Spells.
Weakness and Shortness of Breath.

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women become rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To Men Who Live Inactive Lives.—Exercise in the open air is the best tonic for the stomach and system generally; but there are those who are compelled to follow sedentary occupations, and the inactivity tends to restrict the healthy action of the digestive organs and sickness follows. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills regulate the stomach and liver and restore healthy action. It is wise to have a packet of the pills always on hand.

How the Germans Behave

Are we to continue to regard the Germans as enemies now that we have brought the war to an end? One obvious retort is—all depends on how the Germans behave. We know that Germany is in need of all sorts of food, raw materials, and manufactured articles; we know that if she is to pay her indemnity she must begin to produce wealth; we know that she must recommence her trade with foreign countries, and that the rate of exchange is disastrously against her.—London Daily Chronicle.

U.S. May Purchase British Airship

Two and a Half Million Dollars Appropriated By Congress for Purchase

An early closing of the contract for the purchase by the navy department of the British rigid airship R38, the largest airship in the world, now under construction in England, is expected, it was stated at Washington.

Two and a half million dollars were appropriated by congress for the purchase of this airship.

"The success," said the statement, "of the British in building and operating rigid airships is proved by the trip of the R34 to the United States and its return to England. While the Germans had many years' start of the British, the latter have made wonderful progress in the last few years.

"The R38 to outward appearances will look like the R34, but her dimensions, horse-power, speed and radius of action will be much greater. When full of gas, she will have a 2,724,000 cubic foot capacity, which is fifteen times that of the C5, the United States naval dirigible blown to sea and lost last spring at Newfoundland on the eve of an attempt to cross the Atlantic.

"The R38 is 694 feet in length, 86 feet in diameter, 93 feet six inches high, and carries a useful load of 45 tons. She is expected to have a maximum speed of sixty knots.

"The British air ministry has offered to train personnel for the R38, that upon delivery the airship can be taken over immediately by a United States crew and flown to the U.S.

Liked Their Company

That Mrs. Lloyd George possesses a kindly wit is illustrated by a true story told a few days ago. The wife of the Prime Minister had been addressing a meeting in Wales. At the station, when she was about to return home, she saw some of the women delegates seated in a third-class carriage and expressed a wish to travel with them. "But," objected one, "this is a third-class carriage."

"I prefer first-class company to a first-class carriage," replied Mrs. Lloyd George, with a winning smile.

Belgian Crop Poor

Regions Devastated By War Have Invasion of Mice And Rats

The fall harvest in Belgium has been gathered, with few exceptions, under favorable conditions, but it has been found that the regions devastated by war have suffered another invasion—that of mice and rats—so that in many places the wheat crop is meagre and in some cases absolutely destroyed. Outside the devastated regions the wheat yield has averaged 30 to 36 bushels per acre, but in the devastated regions the average is only about 9 1-2 bushels.

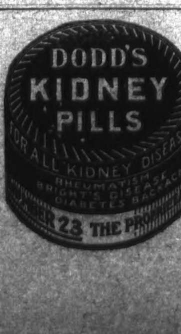

The rye crop is generally satisfactory, but in the devastated regions it too has been injured by this pest, the number of which has been greatly increased by the war. Barley is the best crop of all, exceeding in some cases 73 bushels an acre, although it averages only 10 bushels.

Rumania Hails Canada as Friend

Messrs. Noxon and McCall of the Canadian Trade Mission have returned to London from Rumania, after a tour of investigation as to the possibilities of that country. Though the political situation is as yet unsettled, there is no fear of revolution or of Bolshevism. Any changes that may take place will be gradual in the nature of evolution.

The chief difficulty in preventing a solution of her problems is the fact that the army controls the Government. It seems probable that the civil authorities may take control in the near future.

The Canadian interests are fully protected and Canada is hailed as a great friend of the Rumanian people.

THE NERVOUS SCHOOL CHILD

Needs Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength

Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak and thin, their nerves over wrought and their color and spirits lost. It is a great mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weak blood. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus dance, or drift into debility that leads to other troubles. Regular meals, out-door exercise and plenty of sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay strict attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep his rich and red by giving Dr. Williams Pink Pills according to directions and the boy or girl will be sturdy and fit for school. The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Pearl G. Harrington, Kingsville, Ont., who says:—"I have often felt that I should write you and let you know what Dr. Williams Pink Pills did for me. At the age of thirteen I was afflicted with St. Vitus Dance. The trouble became so severe that I had to be taken from school. I was given medical treatment but it did not help me, in fact I was steadily growing worse. Then a friend advised my mother to give me Dr. Williams Pink Pills, which she did, with the happiest results, as the pills completely cured me and I was again able to take up my studies and attend school. Again about three years ago I was attacked with nervous prostration and once more took Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and after using five boxes was fully restored. I cannot praise these pills too highly as I believe they will cure any case of St. Vitus dance, or restore anyone who is weak, nervous or run down."

You can safely give Dr. Williams Pink Pills to the most delicate child, or take them yourself with equally good results when you need a blood tonic. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 5 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Queen Alexandra's Royal Relations

Probably no royal women of any time has been so intimately related to such a large number of kings and queens as Queen Mother Alexandra, who soon is to celebrate her seventy-fifth birthday. Her father and mother were king and queen of Denmark. Her husband was King Edward VII., her mother-in-law was the late Queen Victoria, her son is now King of Great Britain, her daughter is queen of Norway, a brother was the late king of Denmark, another brother and a nephew were kings of Greece, another nephew was the late Czar of Russia, and still another, who is also her son-in-law, is king of Norway.

BIFF!

Stop joking Liver and Bowels with violent drugs, but take "Cascarets."

"Dynamiting" bile out of your system with calomel and other sickening purgatives is all wrong. Salts, Oil, and Cathartic Waters act by flooding the bowels with the digestive juices which are vital to the stomach. Cascarets are different. They act as a tonic to the bowel muscles, which is the only sensible way to relieve a bilious attack, a sour, acid stomach, or constipated bowels. There is no griping or inconvenience. You naturally return to regularity and cheerfulness. Cascarets cost very little, and they work while you sleep.

Export Trade In Dairy Products

The Future of the Export Trade Is Assured

It is the concensus of opinion of Canadian officials who have visited Europe that the future of the export trade in dairy products is assured. In England butter is everywhere at a premium and Canadian cheese continues to hold its good reputation. Mr. H. S. Arkell, Live Stock Commissioner, who has recently returned from overseas, states that the shortage of milk and dairy products in Great Britain is unprecedented. The same is true of other European countries. The scarcity and high price of concentrated feed is to some extent responsible for this. The condition is so general as not quickly to be remedied. It is further responsible for retarding the increase of swine production and the restoring of the normal requirements of fat. This statement from the Live Stock Commissioner should give confidence not only to dairy farmers, but to those who are able to raise hogs.

The new preacher was asked if he would like any specia lhymn to be sung with his sermon.

"No," he replied. "The fact is, I hardly ever know what I am going to say until I arrive in the pulpit."

"Well, in that case," said the leader of the choir, "we had better have the hymn, 'For Those at Sea.'"

Dominions Take New Status

Manchester Guardian Talks of Revolution in Unwritten Constitution of Empire

The Manchester Guardian in discussing the revolution which has taken place in the unwritten constitution of the British Empire, calls attention to the fact that the dominions are individual nations under the peace treaty and have separate votes in the League of Nations' council. This point, it says, is better realized in America than in Great Britain, as is shown in one of the proposed league reservations in the American senate that on any issue in which the British Empire, or any dominion, is involved, the British Empire suffrage be restricted to one vote.

The Guardian thinks this proposal will not readily find acceptance in the dominions and says Sir Robert Borden's recent insistence on the right of the Canadian parliament to debate the ratification of the peace treaty is symptomatic of the increasing determination of the dominions to assert individuality. If the league is not to meet with embarrassments it is essential that the new status of the dominions be fully considered and regularized, the Guardian concludes.

The Vanishing Perfume

For many years now the remark has gone the rounds among flower lover that it is next to impossible to get a sweet-scented musk. More than one grumble at the nurserymen for raising the larger flowered and scentless variety has been preferred, but now it turns out that the nurserymen are blameless in the matter. The musk has deliberately lost its scent; that is the plain fact, and nobody knows the wherefore of this strange occurrence. The Field calls attention to the fact, and says that no other case of the kind has been recorded. It adds that old colonies of the musk plant which were powerfully fragrant have now become quite odorless. Kew, it appears, is as puzzled as anyone over it.—Christian Science Monitor.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Nellie B. Brittingham, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

For Soldier Settlers

School Lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan Withheld From Sale

Through the intervention of the Soldier Settlement board, school lands in Manitoba and Saskatchewan aggregating 432,000 acres, have been witheld from sale by auction in order to be made available for settlement by returned soldiers. Arrangements have been completed to advertise these lands, 2,700 quarter sections in all, for sale by public auction this fall. The lands are situated in the Winnipeg, Brandon, Ashern and St. Rose de Lac districts in Manitoba, and the Canora, Wadena, Prince Albert and Wakaw districts in Saskatchewan. They were selected because of the fact that in these districts crops this year were good and increased settlement is particularly desirable. The provincial governments concurred in the sale.

Boston baked beans out of golden pots were on the table of the luncheon given in Boston to the King and Queen of the Belgians. Hurrah! How's This Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky, but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Where Words Don't Count

Problem of Universal Language Was Solved Centuries Ago

Most of us visiting a foreign land find it difficult to make our most ordinary wants known. The red Indian has no such difficulty; the problem of a universal language was solved centuries ago. Should an Indian from Northern Alaska go to Patagonia he could, by means of this universal language, converse with his southern brethren. This would also be the case if he visited Central America or met the tribesmen of our own eastern prairies and mountains.

When this language was invented, no one knows, but every Indian learns it in addition to his own. Once two chiefs of different tribes met in Washington and held a conversation that lasted nearly three hours, yet neither one knew a word of the other's language.

This universal language is, of course, made up of signs.

Novel Bolshevist Scheme

Tolstoi's Country House To Be Kept As A Public Memorial

The Bolshevist Government has a somewhat Gilbertian scheme for the disposal of Tolstoi's country house, Yasnaya Polyana. The property is nationalized, and is to be kept up as a public memorial of its late illustrious tenant. As, however, the greater part of the house was destroyed last year by Bolshevist brigands, the Commissary of Art has assigned 175,000 roubles to its reconstruction.

The Tolstoi family have been invited, on condition of becoming Government officials to rent their own property from the State and occupy the house!

CLIVE'S SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL FAIR

The second annual School Fair comprising the Westlines, Clive, Iberville, Bancroft, Eclipse and Nebraska School Districts, was held in Clive a short time ago, and was a splendid success. The W. I. (the district dynamo) with its tireless officers, were rewarded for the great pains they have taken to ensure a good fair. It should be pointed out that the splendid efforts put forth, should make next years fair an even greater success, and foster among parents and children greater interest in the aims and purposes for which these fairs are held.

A new departure this year was that judging in all classes was in the hands of competent representatives of the Olds Agricultural College, in the persons of Miss Wade, Mrs. Holton, and Mr. Sinclair During the afternoon a short programme was presented, the chief item of which was an exceedingly forceful address by the newly appointed High School Principal for Clive, Mr. Shaver, not only pointed out how these particular fairs sought to promote better agricultural methods but made it clear how closely bound together are the interests of parents, pupils and teachers. Apart from a commercial value, Mr. Shaver rightly maintained that True education included both the acquisition of knowledge, and the culture of a noble character.

The remarks of the judges, following the baseball and basketball events were eagerly awaited as were the distribution of prizes. All the judges by friendly criticism and advice pointed out the good and bad points which inevitably appear among the exhibits, and adults as well as children alike benefitted by the practical advice given in the many things necessary to make an exhibit as perfect as possible. The work done by the pupils was good; cooking, prepared lunches, and canning came in for generous praise; while some classes of vegetables and grains showed considerable care in the matter of cultivation. Not the least interesting exhibit was class in gopher tails, a few industrious boys carrying off ribbons for nearly a thousand remnants of "My Lords and Ladies."

Mention should be made of the close interest shown by all teachers and inspectors of Schools in the proceedings of the day. Thanks are due to the women of the Institute for their labors in providing the refreshment booth, the profits of which go entirely to the expenses of the fair. Appended is a complete list of the exhibitors together with the prize winners. It should perhaps be stated the prize money for live-stock entries is donated by the Provincial Dept. of Agriculture.

Boys and Girls—A suggestion. Don't wait for next year to get busy for next year's fair.

Titan Tractors

Ask your neighbor who owns one, just what he thinks of his 10-20 Titan Tractor. The extra amount of plowing done last fall, the new land he was able to put under cultivation during the summer, the complete satisfaction that the tractor has given him, is the best recommend we can give you. Remember, the Titan is strictly a coal oil burning engine (cheaper fuel), that it runs 500 revolutions per minute (longer life), that its draw bar pull is 4 horse power more than its rating, (more power), it is backed by the Harvester Co., with its repair system, and their trained agents (the best possible service). And the price ($1160). Yes that's the price, eleven hundred and fifty dollars. See us about one; we will be glad to demonstrate to you in any way.

Bentley News

For some reason the Victory Loan has not yet taken hold in the Bentley district. There are many expenses, threshing not done yet; grain not marketed; cash not received for grain sold and such like greets the canvassers on all sides. One canvasser visited 30 farmers in one afternoon and did not write a single application. There is also abroad a feeling that to refuse to subscribe is a good way to get a slap at the government. Perhaps it is but it is also a splendid slap at the country and ourselves. There is no part of Alberta more blest this year with prosperity than the Blindman Valley, and none should do better in the Victory Loan. We are glad to see from the papers that most every place in the province is booming ahead. Even the little French Canadian locality, St. Paul De Metis went over the top in a few days.

We are glad to be able to say that some people in our district are alive to the value of the Loan. It is reported that one man is going to take up $10,000. Back up Bentley and let us show the world we are still on the map and believe in Canada and Alberta. Let us see if we cannot do as well as we did last year.

A special meeting of the Sunset Hill Local U. F. A. will be held at the home of Mr. Edward Haarstad on Saturday, Nov. 8th. As important business will be before the meeting every member is urged to attend.

Remember R. R. Hutchisons sale on Nov. 13th. This promises to be one of the best of the season.

About 40 young people gathered in the church on Friday evening Oct. 31st when the young peoples Society held their first meeting of the season. The program was in charge of Social Committee and a series of Halloween games and tests were the order of the evening. Eight tables were arranged for two couples each, and the winner each time progressed to the next table. Mrs. Worlend Nicholson and Mr. Ray Hutton were the successful couple making the round of eight tables in ten trials. Mr. Caleb Morrison and Miss Nellie Fallis were second.

Education in New World Era

The world upheaval occasioned by the Great War is having its effects not only upon politics and political institutions, finance, trade and commerce, and economics in general, but also upon all social and moral relations. While the great struggle was in progress, and the need for bringing every ounce of power and every item of resource to bear to achieve victory became more and more evident, people began to say that the old world would never again be the same. This, in fact, became a trite saying, and many who made use of it hardly realized just how true it was and how great was the revolution taking place in the world, and which was affecting every phase of individual, community, national and international life.

Remarkable and far-reaching as have been the changes brought about in political life and institutions—and here in Canada we are only now beginning to realize just how great the change has been, and just beginning to get a glimpse of other and perhaps greater changes which seem impending—in finance, trade and commerce, in science and invention, the greatest change of all has taken place in the sphere of social conditions.

The insistent demands of Labor for a new place in the social order; the almost world-wide sweep of the movement against the perpetuation of the legalized liquor traffic, the insistence upon greater attention being paid to the health and physical well-being of the people, more especially of the boys and girls—the need for which was so startlingly exposed by the examinations conducted by the army doctors in connection with the recruiting of the immense armies which modern war called for—these things are even more significant of the new era upon which the world has entered than are those which have to do with what in the past we have been taught to regard as the more material things.

And in the laying of the foundation for, and in the development of, this new social order, the most thoughtful men and women have come to recognize that no one institution will be called upon to play a larger or more important part than the public schools and higher institutions of learning throughout this and all other lands. In every progressive country today, education is receiving the serious attention of the most public-spirited and far-seeing statesmen and leaders in public life.

In Great Britain it has found expression in the most sweeping educational reforms of the last half century or more, and the appropriation of positively staggering sums of money, even at a time when the Old Land is faced with a tremendous national debt and taxation has reached heights hitherto undreamed of.

In Canada a general awakening in regard to matters educational is in evidence in almost every Province, and is most noticeable of all in the Provinces of the West and in old Quebec. The change which is taking place in the latter Province is, perhaps, most significant of all, and has to it all the elements that may yet lead to a closer union between Quebec and the other Provinces and help to eliminate those causes of friction which in the past have so greatly retarded our national life.

One of the most promising movements so far as Canada is concerned was the convening of the recent National Conference on Character Education in Relation to Canadian Citizenship, which was held at Winnipeg October 20-22, and which was attended by representative men and women in all walks of life from every Province of the Dominion, and at which inspiring and instructive addresses were delivered, not only by prominent Canadians, but by leaders of thought from the United States and Great Britain.

So important does the writer of this column consider this great National Conference to have been at this stage in Canada's history, that he proposes to devote some space to its deliberations in future articles.

Ireland Dry ng Up?

The War Relieved the Liquor Traffic as a Most Serious Menace

It is interesting to note the strength of the total abstinence movement in Ireland. At a recent congress held in Dublin, representing three hundred societies and a membership of nearly a quarter of a million, Rev. Father Coffey said that "the war had revealed the liquor traffic as being a most serious menace to the physical welfare and moral well-being of men. A revolution was gradually taking place in every country regarding the grave question of tolerating public traffic in alcohol for beverage purposes. If people flattered themselves that the liquor traffic would be quietly allowed to resume its former sway, and that statutory restriction of the traffic would not be one of the insistent social demands of he near future, such people must be blind to what was happening in the U.S.A., and to the inevitable effects which the example of the American total prohibition campaign was sure to have in European countries."

Walked 95 Miles in One Day

One of the most remarkable pedestrians ever known is probably Edward Payson Weston, who walked in one day from Philadelphia to New York, a distance of ninety-five miles. He left the City Hall in Philadelphia at five minutes after midnight, and reached the City Hall in New York at 11.35 p.m. A year later he walked over the same route he had walked forty years before, beating his own previous time by many hours, and going 1,300 miles in 24 days 20 hours. Scotland Going Dry

Minister Says Country Will Vote Prohibition in Spring

"Scotland is going dry next year," according to Rev. Dr. J. H. Jowett, who sailed on the Adriatic for England recently, after preaching a month in his former church at the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church, New York.

"It will surprise many," he said, "that I make the assertion that Scotland next year will vote to go dry, for I do not believe it is realized here how far the temperance movement has progressed in the British Isles. A country which has prohibition will become eighty per cent. more efficient than one which has not, and the drink-ridden countries across the sea will have to follow in the footsteps of the United States or fall behind in the economic race."

To Utilize Tidal Power

In view of the shortage of British coal for export purposes, it is reported that French scientists and industrialists are endeavoring to supply power by harnessing the tides. For several years French scientific men have declared that this was no fantastic dream, and already considerable data on the subject have been collected. In order to apply these theories to the test of practice, a small scientific company has been formed to carry out experiments at Ploumanach, on the Cotes du Nord.

British Strike Very Costly

The approximate cost of the recent railway strike to the British treasury was £10,000,000 sterling, according to an announcement made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the House of Commons. The Chancellor added that the publicity campaign against the strike cost the government more than £32,000 sterling.

Badges For British Seamen

Consideration Being Given to "Some Special Form of Recognition"

At the time of the issue of torpedo badges, a protest was put forward by a member of the seafaring community, who maintained that the issue of this decoration created an anomaly in that the shipmaster who saved his vessel by skillful navigation was unrecognized, whilst an incompetent master, who was directly responsible for the loss of his ship, might claim the decoration.

The Mercantile Marine Service Association took this matter up, and whilst acknowledging that every shipmaster who had been through the ordeal of being torpedoed deserved some recognition of the fact, representations were made to the Ministry of Shipping that some further form of recognition might be granted for successful navigation during the war. The secretary of the Mercantile Marine Service Association has now been informed that consideration is being given to the issue of "some special form of recognition" to those masters and officers of the mercantile marine, who through the war navigated their vessels safely through the danger zones.

The secretary of the Mercantile Marine Service Association has also been officially informed that torpedo badges are granted to officers and seamen who have been taken prisoners by the enemy after their vessels have been torpedoed, if, on their release, they complete a subsequent voyage of one month.

Indian Army in England

Londoners Used to Swarthy Returned Fellows Sauntering Along Streets

The visit of the Indian Army to England during the last few weeks has been an unqualified success. No more keen and interested sightseers than these men, to whom, but for the war, Europe would have remained the far-off and unknown. It is said that nothing gave them greater pleasure than the royal farms at Windsor, and that the cattle came in for a great deal of their attention. This was natural enough, since India is for the main part agricultural. Londoners have become used to seeing parties of these fine, swarthy returned fellows sauntering along the streets, gazing up at St. Paul's or at Big Ben, or contentedly surveying the scene from the top of some motor bus completing its run in from the country.—Christian Science Monitor.

Seven Hundred British Soldiers Due to Reach Vancouver Nov. 11.

Seven hundred British Soldiers now on the sea eastbound from Vladivostok on the C.P.O.S. Ss. Monteagle will arrive in Vancouver on Armistice day, Nov 11, and will be entertained during their brief stay by the Great War Veterans, the Imperial Veterans and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Army and Navy.

These troops include men from several famous British regiments. They are all volunteers and have served for four and a half years. There are First Warwicks, Manchesters, Gordon Highlanders and Durhams in the party. They will be in Montreal en route to England about Nov. 17.

Strikes And Industrial Warfare

The Vast Majority Taxed By the Disturbance of Production

Obviously, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, a way must be found to end strikings. As long as strikes are relied upon, as they must be in the absence of other and better means of achieving the end in view, the vast majority will be taxed mercilessly by the disturbance of production and distribution which a small minority will bring about. Industrial warfare is less bloody, but in proportion to its scope is costlier than war between nations. If arbitrament is the future means of avoiding international wars, without sacrifice of national rights, why not courts of arbitration for avoidance of industrial warfare?

The Inter-Church Forward Movement

Appeals to Every Citizen to Face Anew the Basal Questions of Life

The church stands for the religious basis of all life, and must never lose itself in details. Nothing is more repulsive than philanthropic work carried on without the tender human sympathy and the spiritual insight which enabled the worker to heal the wounds of society. Social reform, if constructive, must be based on sound principles. Each proposal must contribute to some thought-out achievement. Beyond question the driving power in the movement which has so largely curtailed the liquor evil has been an aggressive humanity inspired by the Gospel of Jesus. Economic, political and social considerations have removed the appeal the church but the main power after all has been the conscience created, informed and sustained by religion.

The actual churches are as human as are the men and women who come to them from the clubs, boards of trade, and trade unions, where they meet for other purposes. One has but to consider for a moment what society would be like, if the quiet abiding influence of the churches were removed, to decide that despite certain inefficiencies, the church is an indispensable factor in the moral life of the nation.

Mechanical adjustments of the social arrangements carried on without the insight born of reverence for God and man will be disappointing. Can the force of religion be made more effective? Can religion itself standforth more distinctly than ever, disentangled from mischievous associations with questionable science, history and politics, to sustain the inward life of social progress? No question is more urgent; and the fact that all the churches have awakened to face it is full of encouragement.

The Inter-Church Forward Movement, with the national campaign in each church, appeals to every citizen to face anew the basal questions of life. It seeks to make God more real in personal life, and a greater force in social organization. The overwhelming sense of responsibility of each Christian, and every group to God, for promoting the life of all God's children, will alone create the atmosphere in which real social progress can be made. The Inter-Church movement, therefore, invites all Christian people to stress anew the fundamental facts; reverence to God as seen in every man; the brotherhood of the human family; wealth as held solely in trust for God's life in the world, and all life a means of expressing God's thoughts and purpose, rather than a means of private gain.—Ernest Thomas, Board of Social Service.

Cooperative Exchange Plan

With the view to enabling those with farm produce to dispose of it to best advantage, the Saskatchewan Provincial Department of Agriculture has established a cooperative exchange, the idea being that cooperative associations in the province where there is a surplus of potatoes and like produce should ship to districts where there is a scarcity. Through lack of information farmers with produce to sell frequently export it from the province in ignorance of the fact that better prices could be obtained from other Saskatchewan districts. The exchange plans to bring the buyers and sellers together and act as a clearing house.

It is but natural that a man should get hot when others "roast" him.

Opportunities In Canadian Flying

Aircraft Will Give Impetus to Every Branch of Commerce

Major-General Sykes, controller-general of civil aviation, in an article in the Observer on the Colonies and Aviation, dwells on the great opportunities in Canada. He says aircraft can be employed to extend the influence of railways and will give an impetus to every branch of Canadian commerce. As an instance of their usefulness in development of virgin land, Major-General Sykes suggests an air route linking up Quebec with the Lake Superior terminus of the Canadian Pacific, from where the services might radiate toward Winnipeg and thence to Vancouver and many parts of the northwest provinces.

Aerodromes can be planned in the very centre of new towns springing up in Canada, instead of outside as in older countries. Aircraft might be used for discovering prairie fires, herding, patrols, timber location and survey work. Map making by aerial photography should supercede the present costly and slow method of trigonometrical survey. General Sykes concludes by expressing confidence in Canada's very great future in the air.

No Equinoctial Storms

Scientists oppose the widely held belief that storms always occur at the time of the autumn equinox. The equinox may or may not be coincident with stormy weather, which can reasonably be expected to occur in some parts of the world at any time. The theory that it always does is relegated to the same class as those notions that rain on Easter presages rain on seven succeeding Sundays, a stormy St. Swithin's Day means 40 days of bad weather, and that lumber made from a tree felled in the dark of the moon will become wormeaten.

Alberta's Hog Shortage

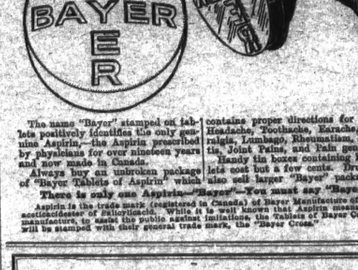

Livestock Men See Cause for Grave Concern

The Province of Alberta is facing a shortage of from 90,000 to 100,000 hogs, compared with last year's figures, and livestock men, packers and others interested in the industry see cause for grave concern in the existing situation. Receipts of hogs at some of the city stockyards are from fifty to sixty per cent. below last year's standard. Packers have been compelled to import cured sides, hams and bellies to supply the local trade.

Unless some provision is made to make hog raising more attractive, the province is in danger of losing the British and European bacon trade developed during the war. The high cost of feed is held responsible for so many farmers keeping their pig pens empty.—F. W. L.

"Ritz-To-Ritz"

Service Between London and Paris Will be Continued During The Winter

Another new service in connection with the air journey between London and Paris is now also in full swing, and will be continued even during the winter. This is called the "Ritz-to-Ritz service," and consists of large machines, holding from twelve to fifteen people, from the Ritz hotel in Paris to the Ritz hotel in London, three days a week. The machines will not actually start from the hotels, but from the aerodromes at Hounslow and Le Bourget. They are intended for the special convenience of guests at the two hotels in London and Paris. The charge for a single passage is $75.

Think of being able to fly over from London to Paris for a dinner or ball and fly back again the next morning in time to keep an appointment for another dinner! The service is only at its' commencement; it is to be elaborated and increased month by month.

Says He Opposed Submarine Warfare

Berlin.—Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, German chancellor during the greater part of the war, spent three hours in the witness box before the national assembly sub-committee which is investigating what had been the possibilities of bringing about peace during the war.

The former chancellor said he sharply condemned the submarine warfare, but admitted the influence of Admiral Von Tirpitz, Gen. Ludendorff and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg was so strong that the German people were absolutely convinced of its justification and followed their generals blindly. His voice almost broke with emotion as Dr. Bethmann Hollweg related his responsibility to the people at home and to the soldiers in the trenches. When he tried to oppose the submarine war, he said, General Ludendorff telegraphed the foreign office, after an inspection of the west front, and Von Hindenburg wired that Germany would lose the campaign and that she must have the submarine war.

It was considered finally, according to the former chancellor, that even America, should she enter the war, could be handled, and the army authorities threw down the gauntlet to political figures, who opposed the campaign.

Warnings not to under-estimate the United States, which the former chancellor said he issued, failed in their purpose, because, he declared, intense hatred of America ruled solidly in all political circles owing to the delivery of ammunition to the entente.

Sinn Feiner Sent to Jail

Charged With Having Possession of Document Advocating Persecution of Police Relatives

Dublin.—Ernest Blythe, Sinn Fein member of parliament, was sentenced by court-martial to a year's imprisonment for having in his possession a document advocating the persecution of the relatives of the police. Mr. Blythe disclaimed all knowledge of the document and characterized its proposals as abominable.

The prisoner has gone on a hunger strike.

A dispatch from Dublin September 9 mentioned Mr. Blythe as among members of the Sinn Fein elected to parliament who had been arrested during an extensive police and military movement against the Sinn Fein.

Soldiers' Political Party Is Likely

Winnipeg.—Captain J. L. T. Wilton, M.L.A. for Assiniboia, predicted and endorsed formation of a returned citizens' political party as the final resort of returned soldiers to obtain what they considered they are entitled, if, as he said, the parties or groups which are subsequently to govern this country will not recognize the justice of the soldiers' claims and give them a square deal.

To Create Research Bureau

Winnipeg.—Preliminary steps were taken at a meeting of the Bureau of Civics for creation in the immediate future of a bureau of research, which will be operated with the object of educating the citizens in matters that relate to municipal government and the welfare of the community generally. A permanent secretary will be appointed, and the bureau has some funds in hand for the start upon a course of civic usefulness.

Explosion on Japanese Battleship

Tokio.—The manoeuvres of the entire Japanese navy, in which the Emperor participated, were marred by an explosion on the battleship Hyuga in Tokio Bay. Fourteen men were killed and thirty injured.

Labor Maintenance Sum Owing

Dominions Paying Interest Which Would Be to State's Advantage in Future

London. — In the house of commons Col. Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, said the British dominions owed the war office £50,00,000 for the maintenance of troops in the field.

"We do not now anticipate receiving more than fifteen million pounds from Australia in the present year," said Mr. Churchill, "owing to financial difficulties there, but the remainder was a perfectly good debt on which the dominions were paying interest and which would roll forward for the state's advantage in future years."

Aliens Deported

Men Were Held in Internment Camp and Sailed From Canada on October 27

Winnipeg.—Ten of the aliens arrested in this city during the riots of June 19 have been deported, according to information received here. The men had been held in the Kapuskasing internment camp, Ontario, and sailed from Canada on October 27. One man who had been arrested at the same time, a Russian, who had served four years overseas with the 51st Battalion, is still in the internment camp, according to information of officials of the Labor Defence League.

Melting of Coins

Order Making Illegal Breaking Up Of Silver Coin Currency

London. — Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the house of commons today that an order has been issued making illegal the melting or breaking up of silver coin currency. The export of British silver coins is prohibited and steps are being taken to prohibit the export of silver bullion except under license.

The situation, the chancellor added, is being carefully watched and he hoped further action would be unnecessary.

Werner Horn Found Guilty

Fredericton, N.B.—Werner Horn was found guilty on the charge that he dynamited the Canadian end of the international bridge at St. Croix, N.B., on February 2, 1915. The jury was out only 13 minutes. Horn, who conducted his own defence, said he was a German officer and was acting under orders of the German government in war time.

Britain's Final Aid to Denikine

London.—In defending the army expenditures, Secretary for War Churchill announced that the cabinet had approved a final contribution of the surplus stores to General Denikine, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia. The value of the contribution, he added, was approximately £15,000,000 sterling, and it would be dispatched during the winter.

Big Co-operative Apartment House

Vancouver, B.C. — Parents with children are to be especially invited to become participants in a scheme for the construction of a co-operative apartment house, which is to be erected here at a cost of nearly $600,000. It will be the largest of its kind in Canada, and one of the largest in the world. Children are to be provided with everything in the way of playing accommodation.

A book agent is often a woman with a history.

Government Grazing Regulations

No Agricultural Land Leased For Ranching or Extended Tenure

Ottawa.—The following statement was issued by the minister of the interior:

Some slight criticism has been made by one or two western papers with regard to the amendments recently made by the interior department to grazing regulations, claiming that the government was tying up in closed leases for twenty years, or less, a large portion of the more remote lands still owned by the government in the Peace River district.

From the criticism which has been offered it is apparent that the writers were of the opinion that twenty years' leases are being granted on lands which are fit for agricultural purposes. This is not correct. Since February, 1914, and until recently, ten year leases only were granted by the department. The regulations provided that before a lease was granted the lands affected must be reported by an officer of the department as unfit for agricultural purposes, and the maximum area which could be held under a lease was twelve thousand acres.

Recently an order-in-council was passed, and this is the one complained of, providing that leases for a term not exceeding twenty years might be granted on lands lying north of the Saskatchewan river, which were twenty-five miles from the margin of settlement provided the same were unfit for agricultural purposes. Up to the present time, however, no leases have been issued under this amendment, the policy of which was to induce ranches who are located in a drought-stricken district in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan to move north where droughts are not so prevalent. Owing to the fact, however, that the climate is colder in the north, it was considered necessary to extend the tenure of a lease as a lessee would be obliged to go to considerable expense in erecting stables, corrals, etc., which would not obtain in the southern country where the climate is less severe.

Eng'and Regrets U. S. Hesitation

Three Ministers Say Peace Delayed By Gravity of Eastern Situation

London.—The hesitation of the United States to accept a mandate for Turkey was mentioned regretfully by three ministers in the House of Commons—Austen Chamberlain, Andrew Bonar Law and Winston Spencer Churchill. Mr. Bonar Law's reference was in connection with his inability to define the future government and administration of Syria and Palestine, pending the conclusion of the peace treaty with Turkey.

Mr. Churchill and Mr. Chamberlain both called attention to the delayed peace. The secretary for war dealt with the military responsibilities in eastern Europe and in Turkey, which were becoming worse owing to the delay. He said that the United States difficulty in this respect was undoubtedly enhanced by the lamentable illness of President Wilson.

A Unique Move

Commercial Travellers to Use British Warships

London.—British commercial travellers and the representatives of business houses are to be permitted passage aboard every British warship leaving the country for abroad.

This, according to Sir Hamar Greenwood, under-secretary for home affairs, who made the announcement before the association of British chambers of commerce, is "a move unique in the history of the empire."

Co-Operation Asked in Scholarships

Winnipeg. — Co-operation of the provincial government in the plan to establish scholarships in Paris for graduates of Canadian colleges was asked by Hon. P. Roy, Canadian commissioner general in Paris, at a conference here with Hon. Dr. R. H. Thornton, minister of education, and Premier Norris. Dr. Roy is confident that the government will establish the three scholarships asked, which will be of $1,200 and tenable for a number of years in Paris.

No Hope for Entombed Miners

Steubenville, Ohio.—After battling their way to within 150 feet of where twenty miners have been imprisoned for two days, rescue workers were ordered out of the Y. and O. mine at Amsterdam, Ohio, by mine officials and state mine inspectors, who feared an explosion might occur, according to word received here. Hope has been abandoned that the miners are alive.

Three Bolshevik Vessels Sunk

London. — An unconfirmed report has reached the Globe that three Bolshevik vessels were sunk when the Bolsheviki attempted to land on the coast in the neighborhood of Petrograd, the vessels being bombarded by a British fleet.

Alleged Evasion Of Immigration Law

Claim that Hutterites Get Into Canada By Automobiles

Winnipeg.—Finding it a difficult job getting into Manitoba from the United States by train, Hutterites, it is alleged, are trying to outwit the immigration authorities by entering in automobiles. Reports to this effect were submitted at a meeting of the central branch of the Great War Veterans' association, with a result that a resolution was unanimously passed calling the attention of the federal government to the matter and urging it to take immediate steps to see that the regulations prohibiting the entry of Hutterites into Manitoba were not evaded in what was described as this astute way.

The Sugar Shortage

Licenses to Export Sugar Cancelled By Canadian Trade Commission

Ottawa.—No export licenses of sugar from Canada are being issued, and old contracts which called for the shipment of sugar to the United States have been cancelled by the Canadian trade commission, it was learned. Export of sugar along the border points, which has been permitted to some extent in the past, has also been stopped, despite the many hundreds of requests for sugar being received by the trade commission.

At the office of the commission it was stated that if care is exercised by the consumers, there is sufficient sugar in Canada for domestic use, providing there are no strikes or transportation tie-ups.

Canada is one of the best situated countries in the world in this respect, it was stated.

To Solve Fiume Question

France and Britain Are Again Trying to Bring About Settlement of Problem

Paris.—Efforts of France and England are again being brought into play to bring about a solution of the Italian-American difficulties over the settlement of the Fiume problem, according to the Liberte.

The newspaper reports that the American opposition to the modified Italian proposals is unchanged and that the response of Secretary of State Lansing is in the negative.

Premier Clemenceau received Foreign Minister Tittoni.

Germany May Not Hand Over Ships

Berlin.—The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says semi-officially that the reply of the German government to the note from the supreme council at Paris, demanding the surrender of German ships sold to Holland during the war, will probably be in the negative. The note will declare that the government is unable to endorse the legal arguments of the entente that the sale of these ships, which are now in German waters, was invalid.

Heavy Potato Loss in Manitoba

Winnipeg. — Manitoba has sustained a loss of about 2,800,000 bushels of potatoes, frozen in the ground, which at market prices today, $1.25 per bushel, means a loss of $3,500,000 and represents a loss of from 30 to 40 per cent. of the entire crop. Dealers say there will be a serious shortage in the province this winter.

Proportional Representation

Winnipeg.—A bill providing for proportional representation for Winnipeg will be introduced in the next session of the provincial legislature, it is stated. Winnipeg would be the only district affected, as the city constituencies are the only ones for which there are more than one member.

New Haven, Conn. — Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, authoress and poetess, died at her home, "The Bungalow," in Brantford, recently. Mrs. Wilcox had been ill for some months, having had a nervous collapse while engaging in war relief work in England.

Turkish Question For N.w Conference

Entente Representatives Are Persuaded U.S. Will Not Voluntarily Accept Mandate

Paris.—The entente representatives in the peace conference apparently are persuaded that the United States will not voluntarily accept any mandate in the Near East, and it now seems assured that the Turkish question will not be touched by the present peace conference, but will probably be taken up by another conference to be held within a few months.

There is much speculation as to where the conference for the division of Turkey is to be held. It will probably not be in Paris. The suggestion of Geneva has not met with great favor, as it is not regarded as a good place for a winter conference, and it is believed that Turkey must be disposed of before spring.

To Relieve Distress

Preparations Being Made in U.S. to Cope With Strike Situation

Washington. — The government, confronted with the refusal of the miners' organization to call off the strike of a half million soft coal workers, has moved swiftly to protect the people from great distress.

First of many steps to deal with a situation admittedly critical probably will be three:

"Ample police or other protection for miners willing to remain on the job as urged by President Wilson.

"Revival of the fuel administration, armed with full war-time powers to prevent hoarding and profiteering.

"Allocation and distribution of coal to homes, railroads and industries.

"Efforts to bring the strike to a speedy end through mediation.

"The government, however, will make no effort to bring about indictment of officers of the United Mine Workers of America, who called the strike, on charges of conspiracy to reduce production of a necessary product.

No Relief in Sight

Winnipeg Wholesaler Says Exportation of Sugar is Cause of Shortage

Winnipeg.—Writing to the Free Press, A. MacDonald, wholesale grocer, claims that the shortage of white sugar is due to the government granting permits too freely to exporters, while wholesale dealers in Canada can only get a few hundred sacks at a time, but available beet sugar, because it is not good enough for the European market. He says:

"According to the British Columbia Sugar Refining Company's report, Fiji and Peruvia are coming to the help of Canada. One boat with 700 tons and another with 2,000 tons are on their way, or in all, less than one-third of the quantity that left one of our eastern factory's wharves within a week or ten days for European markets."

Sugar Rations to Candy-Makers

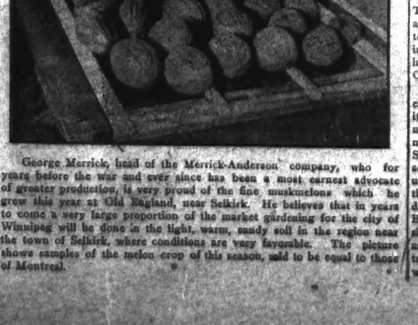

Washington.—Rationing of sugar to manufacturers of candy, soft drinks and the like is soon to be suggested by the sugar equalization board, a house war investigating committee was told by Herbert Hoover, former federal food administrator. This step by the board, Mr. Hoover said, resulted from the fact that "raw sugar has risen beyond the point where it can be bought advantageously for the housewife."

Argentina to Hand Over Hun Ships

Buenos Ayres.—The six German merchant ships which took refuge in Argentine ports during the war will be delivered to the allies in good condition. This decision is the result of diplomatic negotiations extending over several months to determine the fate of the interned steamers.

An Americanization bill to wipe out illiteracy in the United States, was reported on favorably by the senate labor committee. The bill would appropriate $12,500,000 a year.

Melons Grown in the West

George Merrick, head of the Merrick-Anderson company, who for years before the war and ever since has been a most earnest advocate of greater production, is very proud of the fine muskmelons which he grew this year at Old England, near Selkirk. He believes that in years to come a very large proportion of the market gardening for the city of Winnipeg will be done in the light, warm, sandy soil in the region near the town of Selkirk, where conditions are very favorable. The picture shows samples of the melon crop of this season, said to be equal to those of Montreal.

Lloyd George Gains A Victory

London.—The press is unanimous in acknowledging that the government secured a triumph in the recent financial debate.

Even the Daily News, a most severe critic of the government generally, admits that the Premier's speech was a great oratorical success, and made a tremendous impression on the house. The discussion, it states, started out by the time the Premier had resumed his seat.

Nevertheless, some of the newspapers continue criticism of what they call the government's "faith healer finance." They accuse the government of replying with rhetoric and despising logic and facts.

The Times states that there will be widespread amazement that the commons is so easily cajoled and those believing in representative institutions will tremble for democracy's future.

The Times also states that the government is undertaking an autumn campaign throughout the country to endeavor to regain lost prestige. Two hundred mass meetings have been arranged for the next six weeks, especially in the industrial centres. The final meeting will be held in London and will be addressed by the Premier and Bonar Law.

Trial of Ex-Kaiser Will Take Place

British Government Sees No Reason for Dropping Provision in the Peace Treaty

London.—In the House of Commons, Major Lane Fox asked the Premier if he was aware that there was a growing feeling throughout the country against bringing the ex-kaiser to trial, and in favor of leaving him to the punishment of his own conscience and the contempt of the world. He asked if the government would submit the matter to a vote in the house before carrying out the provision of the peace treaty, or whether the provision was so binding as to render such avoidance of it impossible.

Bonar Law replied that he was not aware of any wave of feeling against the trial. The government saw no reason why this provision of the peace treaty, which had been approved by the house, should not be carried out.

Stranded in Eng'and

British Government Has Been Requested to Provide for Canadians Now in Old Country

London.—The Canadian government will probably receive representations soon, urging the opening of a camp here for a very limited period for soldiers who took their discharge here, and now find themselves workless.

It will also ben understood that although these men have now absolutely no legal claim for repatriation, it will be wiser to grant this concession. If this is done, however, it is urged that some organization in Canada must be prepared to look after them on their arrival, otherwise their condition in Canada will be as bad as it is here.

Navy Must Retain Strength

Beatty Says Nation Would Fall to the Ground Unless Sea Force Is Maintained

London.—Earl Beatty, the new first sea lord, speaking here, declared that while public economy was essential, our vast lines of communication were as important as before the war, and the navy was our insurance for maintaining them. The League of Nations was a pious hope for relieving us of some of that insurance, which he hoped might be fulfilled, but the navy made us into a strong man armed, and without it the Empire would fall to the ground.

To WithDraw British Troops

London.—Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons, announced that the government was arranging with France and Prince Feisal, son of the King of the Hedjaz, for the immediate withdrawal of the British troops from Syria and the assumption of the duties of occupation by the French and Arabs, pending the conclusion of the peace treaty.

Future Depends on Navy

London.—Speaking at the Navy League, Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty, said that while the country had been told to look to new forms of protection, it must not forsake the substance for the shadow. The peaceful future of the world is inseparably associated with the policy the country is going to pursue with regard to her naval forces.

Coal For Canada

Deputy Fuel Administrator Takes Action to Stop Possible Tie-up in U.S.

Toronto.—P. A. Harrington, deputy fuel administrator for Ontario, having been advised that the United States railway companies were confiscating coal consigned to Canadian manufacturers, telegraphed to W. D. Hines, director-general of the United States railways, requesting that an order be issued restraining the railways from confiscating coal en route to Canada. Mr. Harrington also wired the board of railway commissioners for Canada, asking for an order to restrain Canadian railways from confiscating coal consigned to public utilities, hospitals, food manufacturers and newspaper publishers.

Britain Not Bankrupt

Herbert Asquith Declares There is an Abundance of Wealth in the Country

London.—Herbert H. Asquith, former premier, in the course of a speech at Aberystwith, Wales, declared the country was not bankrupt. On the contrary, he said, there was an abundance of wealth evident in superfluity. Mr. Asquith advocated new taxation immediately in order to meet the situation, and suggested an enquiry into the taxability of wealth.

Old War Bombs Cause Explosion

Rome.—The large hydro-electric station at Padua collapsed with a deafening crash into the Piovogo canal. The disaster is attributed to the erasion of the granite foundations of the station, which were undermined by the explosion of three Austrian air bombs during the war. The damage is estimated at 3,000,000 lire. As a consequence of the collapse the city is without lights.

London. — Diplomats here assert that another strong appeal has been addressed to the United States by Signor Tittoni, Italian foreign minister, regarding the Fiume situation. It is added that the British and French governments are using their good offices to ease the rather critical situation.

Admit Germans to Labor Conference

Washington.—Germany and Austria are to be admitted to the international labor organization, "with the rights and obligations possessed by other members."

A recommendation to this effect from the organization committee was adopted by the labor conference with but one dissenting voice.

The debate was spirited and prolonged, but ultimately it came to an ignominious end under the closure rule. The vote for admission stood 71 to 1, the one vote being that of Louis Guerin, French employers' delegate. There was also one abstention. Jules Carlier, Belgian employers' delegate, did not vote either way.

The Belgian government delegates voted for admission, not, as they emphasized, because they wished to admit the Germans, but because of economic necessity.

The four Canadian delegates all voted for the motion to admit. On the previous motion to apply closure, however, they divided. Mr. Parsons, employers' delegate, and Mr. Draper, workers' delegate, voted against the motion.

The two Canadian government delegates, Mr. Rowell and Mr. Acland, who is substituting for Mr. Robertson, voted for it. The vote on the closure motion stood: For, 65; against, 30.

The attitude of the Canadian delegates toward the motion for admission was determined at a meeting of the delegation held prior to the debate in the conference.

The question was thoroughly discussed from all standpoints. It was then determined to support the recommendation of the organizing committees on the main ground that, from the economic point of view, it was essential that German industry should be brought within the scope of the restrictions laid down in the labor annex to the League of Nations covenant.

Britain is Defied By Sinn Feiners

Motion Pictures Of German Crimes

Films Have Been Taken From Von Tirpitz Showing Actual Shelling of Sinking Vessels

New York.—Motion picture films taken from archives of Admiral Von Tirpitz in the former Kaiser's admiralty and showing allied vessels being torpedoed by German U-boats during the whole war, were brought here by J. H. Mackzum, a Knight of Columbus secretary.

The films, which were destined for exhibition by Germany on the day of its triumph, were made by camera men on a submarine which was commissioned to cruise about the Irish Sea and photograph merchant vessels after they had been attacked by unknown craft. This boat used more than 40,000 feet of film. The picture depicts the U-boats shelling four British vessels while those on the ships were swimming for lifeboats and rafts. A torpedo leaving the tube of the submarine, speeding towards its victims, is also shown.

Dublin.—The meeting of the Sinn Fein parliament held here was in direct defiance of the government's proclamation, and the people are interested to know what the government will do about it. The meeting being illegal, the Irish papers are forbidden to mention it.

A report circulated by the Sinn Feiners says that a national inspector of fisheries will be appointed; that a civil service scheme is being arranged to embrace all local officers and also that national arbitration courts and labor conciliation bodies will be formed.

Estimates for the coming financial period, says the report, were laid before the house, and the necessary votes of credit adopted.

The six Sinn Fein members for Dublin have sent to the United States consul a copy of the alleged instruction for searching the effects of United States seamen. The letter says: "As these instructions constitute a hindrance to lawful trade of America with Ireland, we the elected representatives of the city of Dublin request that you transmit copies of them to your government."
